

HASHIT

Run No: 1669

Hare: Nowra

Where: Beckwith St (Hash Grotto)

When: 27 August 2007

With HJ away and Nikki unavailable I thought I might be the only girl at Hash this week but Doggy returned to the fold after her sojourn ensuring that we didn't let the side down. Also returning after a stint away at the top end was Rinty with the Hash Horn in fine voice.

Up the garden path we were sent by the Hare only to find a check at the first corner and ended up back down the garden path, over thru the cricket ground and down a lane, by which time the Brute and I were so turned about it took a minute to get our bearings and work out which way was up.

Past the RSL we went and then on on towards and along the lagoon where the pack startled a young gazelle as we went by, causing her to enquire "what the hell was all that about?"

Back at the Hash Grotto the GM was hard pressed to award DHOTW. The Brute tried to get me a down down for our near miss in the traffic which I still totally deny was my fault, but finally the award was given to Furballs for mislaying a certain object.

Still not satisfied that the circle was complete our GM noticed the shiny glare radiating off Rinty's new runners. The glint was however soon taken off by a down down from at least one of the offending items.

Bizarre News Story of the Week

Dwarf's penis gets stuck to vacuum cleaner
The Sydney Morning Herald. August 21, 2007

A dwarf performer at the Edinburgh fringe festival had to be rushed to hospital after his penis got stuck to a vacuum cleaner during an act that went horribly awry.

Daniel Blackner, or Captain Dan the Demon Dwarf, was due to perform at the Circus of Horrors at the festival known for its oddball, offbeat performances.

The main part of his act was for him to appear on stage with a vacuum cleaner attached to his member with a special apparatus. The attachment broke before the performance and Blackner tried to fix it using extra-strong glue, but unfortunately only let it dry for 20 seconds instead of the 20 minutes required.

He then joined it directly to his organ. The end result? A solid attachment, laughter, mortification and ... hospitalisation.

"It was the most embarrassing moment of my life when I got wheeled into a packed A&E with a vacuum attached to me," Blackner said. "I just wished the ground could swallow me up. Luckily, they saw me quickly so the embarrassment was short-lived."
